BASIC QUESTIONS

ed 6 yards was placed on the approaches between the street line and the property lines on City property, but a small amount was placed in some holes in these driveways which was on private property. Further questioning revealed prisoners were involved as laborers in the actual filling of holes on private property at the Lively and Humphrey driveways.

Commissioner Ashley was questioned on his solicitation of affidavits and his method of obtaining the Brook's affidavits. In particular, which was disregarded.

Commissioner of Streets Carlton was questioned in general on his knowledge of operation of the Street Department and in particular on his instructions to Superintendent Pennington in reference to the driveways in question.

questioned on the method of record keeping in reference to the Street Department.

The conclusion of the mayor's committee drawn from the affidavits and a wealth of conflicting oral testimony is as follows: Commissioner Ashley is to be commended for his zeal in investigating what he thought improper use by a City employee of City equipment and property, but this zeal was misdirected and the matter handled in a unorthodox manner since the Commissioner of Streets and the Superintendent of Streets should have been conferred with by Commissioner Ashley. If no cooperation or satisfaction could be gained by Commissioner Ashley in this way, and there are indications that this might be the case, then the matter could have been brought before the full Commission for handling without resort to affidavits. With reference to Commissioner Ashley's own affidavit, this committee also finds he was not fully posted and apparently did not know where the City property ended and the private property began.

Commissioner Carlton was very hazy in his instructions to Superintendent Pennington in reference to the Lively and Humphrey driveways. His instructions were to "fill the holes" without specific instructions as to whether this meant the approaches on City property or the holes on private property. Due to the limited amount of time a Commissioner can devote to city business under the present system of City Government, the Superintendent of Streets has been allowed a wide amount of latitude in his activities. In the instance of the Judson Pennington driveway approach, Commissioner Carlton had been done of the work that had been done which included the spreading of 48 yards of rock supplied by the private owner on the private part of the driveway by City equipment. This was a matter of record turned in by Superintendent Pennington, but the City has not yet been paid for the use of this equipment within two months after this particular part of the work, since Superintendent Pennington states the job has not been completed due to weather conditions. The use of City equipment will be paid for when the job in complete status Superintendent Pennington.

The committee concludes here that the records of the Street Department are very loosely handled, and because of this while there is no present evidence that the City has not been paid for work done by City equipment on private property, the opportunity for this type of work to go unpaid for is very apparent. The committee recommends:

The use of prisoners for the window and says, "Just want to make sure you're the right man to vote for."

work on private property be absolutely forbidden.
2. That the Commissioner of Streets read the daily activity report to the Street Superintendent so as to be fully aware of all of the daily progress of this department.

3. That the record keeping methods of this department be overhauled to include authorization by the Commissioner for all jobs.

4. A definite plan be laid out in advance by the Commissioner and the Superintendent to carry on ordinary maintenance by prearranged areas on a definite schedule.

5. When a private citizen requests that work be done on private property by the street department, the request be made to the Street Commissioner who will in turn get approval from the full Commission and thus it will be a matter of public record and eliminate any chance for favoritism.

6. That the activity reports be turned in daily to the City Clerk and followed through with billing and collecting if work on private property is authorized.

7. That inter-departmental work done by the street department when completed, be okayed by the heads of two departments involved and the proper inter-departmental charges made.

8. That the purchase of all materials and the eventual disposal, or disposition of them, be closely checked and physical inventories of all City property taken periodically as the City Commission sees fit.

In reviewing the testimony of all the witnesses, the committee finds no proof for any charges against the Superintendent of Streets but it does find that the loose overall operation of this department has led to carelessness, extreme lack of cooperation, the opportunity for error, and a resulting higher cost of operation to the taxpayers than is necessary.

It is evident that political aspects and personal political convictions have had more than a passing influence on the street department to the detriment of the taxpayers and also that personal feeling between Commissioner Ashley and City Engineer Pickett and Superintendent Pennington are interfering with the efficient operation of the Street Department.

The committee strongly recommends that these two aforementioned Commissioners find a basis on which they can cooperate to the interests of the taxpayers. That is what they were elected for.

This committee could carry on investigations into the other departments of the City, but has finally concluded the basic trouble with the City Government is the absence of a full time active head, operating all departments under policy and ordinances formulated by the City Council. A capable and qualified City Manager should be employed with all haste to put into operation efficient administration of all City Departments and as a result the work of the City if the taxpayers require their further services.

Florida high schools now may adopt their curricula a new government course, under a plan related to me by U.S. Commissioner of Internal Revenue, T. Coleman Andrews.

Commissioner Andrews and I discussed this program Sunday night in a television program from several Florida stations.

"Besides being a very practical and helpful course for the student," the Commissioner said, "It also offers them a course in citizenship, and teaches the responsibilities as well as the rights of all citizens."

"Surprising discovery during the 'pilot' courses offered by the IRS is the percentage of error in making out the returns is only two percent for high school students; the national average is 24 percent. This course is available to any high school upon request of appropriate authority (superintendent or principal). Inquiries may be made direct to the Commissioner at Washington, D. C., or if you wish to inquire of the office the request will be handled with the Commissioner. Resolution of the House and Congressmen be recognized and thanked for their splendid support, interest and tireless efforts on all legislative matters of concern to the Florida farm-ers. Fla. News Notes Off the Cuff: Back home for a few days rest and relaxation, then on the trail again, with engagements at Jacksonville, Daytona Beach,

New Smyrna Beach, Palatka, Jacksonville Beach, Green Cove Springs, Gainesville, St. Petersburg, Lakeland, Panama City, Shalimar, St. Augustine, Cocoa, Vero Beach, Fort Pierce, Stuart and Miami before Thanksgiving. My staff turned in another cruise on a veterans case, insuring benefits in a case pending since World War I. One Miami man who wrote us, got his money's worth for the three cents; the letter posted last August. The turned up stuck to the bottom of a mail bag which came in during October from California and heaven knows where else. The Postmaster informs us that occasionally happens.

REVISE CONSTITUTION AS OBJECTIVE OF FLA. WEEKLY PRESS

Rep. Farris Bryant, Speaker of the 1953 Florida House of Representatives, in an address before the Florida Press Association convention, called for citizens to demand the grass roots level to revise the state constitution. He appealed to the weekly editors to start a crusade to "arouse our citizens."

Bryant stated the present constitution was a product of the legislature to approve succession to the governorship makes it plain Florida's constitution should be completely revised. It is a course in taxation, and the glaring deficiencies in the present constitution which has been amended 90 times. The need has also been intensified by the inability of the 1953 legislature to approve succession from several Florida stations.

The three-day meeting of Florida's weekly press at Silver Springs was concluded Sunday afternoon with the election of officers for 1954. L. E. Sellers, editor and publisher of the Washington County News, was chosen president to succeed Fred Fitzgerald, publisher of the Daytona Beach Observer. Carr Settle of Moore Haven, publisher of the Glades County Democrat, was named vice president.

Approximately 180 newspapers were represented at the association's 74th annual meeting. Weekly editors, publishers, families and staff members were entirely of Florida men.

ENLISTMENTS OPEN FOR "EVERGLADES" MARINE PLATOON

(Special to the Belle Glade Herald)
Another Platoon of all-Florida Marines is now being formed. According to Sergeant E. A. Miller, local Marine Recruiter for the Belle Glade area, the "Everglades" Platoon will be enlisted in November and December and sent to recruit training at Parris Island, S. C., in January, 1954.

Applicants accepted for enlistment under this program will be trained as a unit at Parris Island. After completing boot training they will return home as a team and recruit others. Thereafter they will receive separate duty assignments.

By enlisting as members of this all-Florida platoon, Floridians will be able to serve with men from home, thus forming a common bond and meeting ground for recruits throughout the state. "Go to boot" camp with your buddy," is a novel experiment tried twice successfully this year. Both the "senior" and "Gator" platoons which recently completed recruit training were comprised entirely of Florida men.

Applicants may enlist for three or four years. Men desiring to serve as members of the all-Florida "Everglades" platoon may contact Sgt. Miller at the Selective Service Board in Belle Glade each Tuesday between the hours of 10 am and 1 pm. Mail them and take your "boot" training after the Christmas and New Year's Holidays.

OSCEOLA CAMP NEWS
By Linna Atkinson

The Osceola Camp School had a Red Cross drive. There was a good response from all the grades. Glenn Hogue and Marie Silve were elected as Red Cross representatives.

The fourth grade made booklets which contain daily class works. These are displayed on the bulletin board.

A museum has been made by the third grade. They collect birds and small animals, using for science and to learn the rules of protection and conservation. A glass case is used to hold specimens.

Miss Bina Rodriguez, the school nurse taught the first grade children the right way to brush their teeth. She used a large size model of teeth and gums and a large size tooth brush, and gave each child a tooth paste and a brush to encourage the formation of good health habits in the care of the teeth.

SHALLOW SETBACKS ARE CAUSING COUNTY TROUBLE

Failure of municipalities to require set-back lines conforming with state road specifications costs the county thousands of dollars each year the county commission said this week.

Commission Chairman Lake Lutz said that the narrow setbacks in towns through which state and federal roads run means that additional right of way must be bought by the county whenever the highway is widened.

Expenditures for this could be eliminated, he said, if town planning boards or commissions would approve plans, would consult the county first so that it might specify its needs. In the future the board will attempt to have municipalities revamp their set-back policies so they will meet state requirements.

The matter came up Monday when the commission was taken to approve a West Palm plan bordering on US 1. Only 30 feet set backs were required by the plan already approved by that city whereas the state requires 80 feet of right of way for its roads.

County Attorney Harry Johnson advised that the board had no authority over streets with in municipalities but must deal along with the narrow right of way.

JUNIOR RAMS CONTINUE THEIR WINNING WAYS

Jackie Poole provided the lone tally Tuesday night as the Junior High Rams edged Pahokee 7-0 on the local field.

Poole skirted one double reverse and 40 yards untouched. Excellent ball handling and faking in the Baby team backfield and efficient blocking in the line fooled the Baby Devils completely and when they had located the ball it was too late to do more than watch the play.

The line plunking of Devil's fullback Walter Smith and at time appeared to be the Devils only chance to tie up the ball game. But the Baby Rams did exceptionally well and throttled the drives at the crucial points.

One game remains for the Juniors — a clash with Clewiston Tigers Cubs next Tuesday night. The game will be played on the local field and should be a fine show. The Baby Rams defeated the Cubs in Clewiston 7-6 before the largest crowd seen in a junior game this year.

The Junior Band made its first marching appearance after the half Tuesday night and were highly applauded for their first performance. All of the group did exceptionally well and with a little more experience and confidence will do fine.

CREWS ATTENDS PREVIEW OF 1954 CHEV. TRUCKS

C. W. Crews of the Glades Chevrolet Company has just returned from Jacksonville, where he attended a private preview of the new 1954 Chevrolet trucks.

The exhibit and accompanying business session was sponsored by the company for all retail dealers and salesmen in this area and emphasized the importance Chevrolet is attaching to its soon-to-be announced new truck line.

The meeting was somewhat more to offer the truck user in 1954, but it will expand the forces behind its selling. Included in an expanded advertising program.

Mr. Crews said he plans to arrange a special showing of the new line in his dealership when the trucks become available for display later this month. It is one of the first times in history that Chevrolet has exhibited new trucks apart from new passenger car models.

USE OF FERTILIZER IS STEPPED UP IN FLORIDA

Florida farmers stepped up agricultural production last year by the use of 1,288,000 tons of fertilizer and fertilizer materials.

This total consumption during 1952 was greater by 7 percent than during the previous year and almost double that of 1942, the Florida State Chamber of Commerce stated yesterday.

Florida's position as a fertilizer consumer is given as third in this week's business review of the State Chamber's research and industrial division. North Carolina and Georgia were at the top of the list. Ohio, Alabama and Indiana followed closely behind Florida. These five states accounted for 38 percent of the national consumption last year.

The 1953 Florida consumption was made up of 1,053,000 tons of mixed fertilizer, with the balance of the total in such materials as compost and soil conditioners applied directly. Virtually 80 percent of the mixed fertilizer used in the state is manufactured in Florida.

No fertilizer was assigned to government agencies for distribution to Florida farmers last year. In 1951 such distribution nationally amounted to 120,000 tons, falling to 15,626 tons last year.

EXPERTS STUDYING

Glades. We put a little more effort into this because it was more interesting and diversified — and we received more cooperation," said Mr. Greene.

Mr. Greene was high in his praise of the attitude and interest of the Osceola faculty, and of the progress made with the education of those who attend that school.

A report was made to the County School Board this week and recommendations made to the board. These will be recommendations to the State Educational authorities, as well as to the National Council on Education.

The County Board appointed a Committee composed of the Chairman, Board Member Earlwood of the Glades, Superintendent Howell L. Watkins and Mrs. Clara Capron, County Director of Instruction. This committee is to study the migrant pupils' problems and make recommendations to the board.

A further report of the study by Mr. Greene and his group will be made in next week's Herald.

Activities of Glades Scouts

"Under the Green Umbrella" is the slogan chosen by the group of individuals working toward the formulation of an area council in the Palm Beach area. Immediately one may ask "Why join an area council?" The answer is obvious—through an area organization more girls can become Scouts; girls can be given better training by joining forces in an area council; an area council can afford camps, programs, equipment and professional staff beyond the means of small independent groups. The Girl Scout groups in Belle Glade, Pahokee and Clewiston have worked as "Lone troops" throughout the years which means all correspondence has been carried on through National Headquarters in New York City. This has at times been quite unsatisfactory both to local leaders and to National Headquarters. Under an area council participating communities will have the advantage of the area headquarters assuming the responsibility of taking care of the endless details involved with National in New York.

The following questions and answers should clear up questions in the mind of the reader in regards to the Area Council and how it works.

Total Coverage

What are we going to get out of this?

1) You will be able to offer Scouting to more girls.

2) You will be able to have a well-rounded training program for more volunteers than previously has been possible.

3) You will improve the quality of the program.

4) Through cooperative effort, you can expand your camping program and offer progressive opportunities that will reach all girls.

5) With the guidance and help of your professional worker you can strengthen and enlarge your total program.

6) You will unify and strengthen your neighbors and own community.

7) You will have more contact with other communities and with your national organization.

8) You will assure stronger and more effective councils.

Property and Finance

How much will it cost?

There is no one answer to how much it will cost. The cost is based on services needed. Each council is different in size, in needs and resources. A National Staff Member will help you find the answer to this question.

What would be our town's share?

The amount is determined by a committee on which your town's representative will help. It will be based on recommendations of committee members who know the needs and resources of the various communities. Every effort to divide fairly and proportionately is made.

How do we get the money?

The money would be obtained by cooperative effort through the community chest drive or through fund-raising campaigns; both methods are often used within the same council.

What happens to property now owned by individual towns?

1) Your finance committee will recommend a policy for consideration and final adoption by your council as a whole. See Finance Manual.

2) Girl Scout Houses are held in the name of the new council. Money for upkeep and so forth is allocated in the annual budget. As a rule, the district or town in which the house is located continues the actual supervision of it.

3) Councils already in operation have found it more efficient and more economical to have all camp properties transferred to the new council which in turn, operates and supports them. For example, a more varied camping program would be possible for the towns through sharing facilities. Do we have to have a community chest in our town before we can join a council?

No. Town custom in supporting other groups of similar nature determines this. Towns with community chests and towns without community chests are often found in the same council.

Would our money go out of town, and would any of it come back?

The decision as to where the money is actually banked is up to the council. Most councils find it much more efficient to bank in one place within the council and to have one treasurer who signs all checks. Your girls and your leaders will receive the services the budget was raised to deliver. This is the way your money will return to your community and your troops.

How much money goes to the National Organization?

Only your Council charter fee of $10.00 is sent to headquarters. (Each individual pays her own membership fee which is in the national organization.)

Would we still control our troop funds?

Yes, troops would continue to handle their own finances in accordance with the finance policies you develop for your council.

Organization and Structure

How large will the new council be, and who decides that?

The towns themselves, with the advance of the community adviser, decide on the boundary lines. These factors are considered in planning the jurisdiction to which to include:

a) Transportation facilities
b) Common interests
c) Population (present and potential membership)
d) Financial resources
e) Communication facilities

After we decide that we want to belong to a council, what steps do we take?

Your community adviser will explain the steps thoroughly and help you carry them out. They involve:

a) Strengthening existing organization
b) Holding meetings of towns to discuss the plan
c) Designing a "development committee"
d) Developing a new constitution
e) Developing a budget
f) Employing a staff
g) Establishing an office
h) Applying for a new charter

VETERANS INFORMATION AND SERVICE

By Melvin T. Dixon
State Service Officer

Dependency of Gold-Star Parents. — Earlier this year a spot check was made by the Veterans Administration to determine the eligibility of Gold-Star parents to continue to receive VA death compensation benefits on the grounds that they are dependent on the son or daughter whose life was lost in service. It is reported that a questionnaire is now being sent to the entire list of 283,066 parents currently drawing death compensation because the spot check is alleged to have revealed many persons who are no longer dependent.

If the information received in the new questionnaires indicates that the income exceeds (a) $105 for a mother or father (not living together); (b) $175 for a mother and father (living together); (c) plus $45 for each additional member of the family whose support is to be considered among the family group, then the parent's death compensation will be discontinued.

In determining dependency the following sources of income will be considered: (a) Net income from property owned, or business operated, by the mother or father; (b) earnings of the mother or father and other members of their family under legal age; (c) actual contribution of any character to the family expenses by the adult members; (d) so-called social benefits; i.e., old age assistance and old age and survivors' insurance; or (e) family allowances received from sons or daughters in the armed forces.

Amounts received as benefits from any Government insurance, any pension or compensation from the VA, 6-month gratuity, mustering-out pay, donations or assistance from charitable sources or servicemen's indemnity will be disregarded.

The fact that the veteran has made habitual contributions to his father or mother, or both, is not conclusive evidence that dependency existed but shall be considered in connection with all other evidence.

For further detailed information concerning parent's dependency contact your local Veterans Service Officer.

CHRISTMAS SEAL SALE OPENS NOVEMBER 17

34,486 Christmas Seal letters will be delivered to Palm Beach County residents, businesses, and clubs beginning November 17, marking the opening of the 47th Annual Christmas Seal Sale, according to A. Parker Bryant, County Seal Sale Chairman.

Mr. Bryant expressed appreciation to the many volunteers from many organizations throughout the county who have helped prepare these letters for delivery. The firemen from West Palm Beach, Lake Worth, and Palm Beach deserve special thanks for folding over six million Christmas Seal letters, Mr. Bryant added.

The 1953 Christmas Seal is a colorful, seal featuring the joyful face of a smiling child in our thoughts particularly during the Christmas season.

The Christmas Seal Sale, conducted by the Palm Beach County Tuberculosis and Health Association to raise funds for its 1954 tuberculosis prevention and control program, will continue through Christmas, according to Mr. Bryant.

LAKE WORTH TROJANS TROUBLE BG RAMS

Trojans from Lake Worth High School journeyed to the home field last Friday night and went away with a 27-6 victory. BG played one of its poorest games of the season when LW played one of its best.

The Rams were also hurt by frequent 15 yard plays close to their own goal line.

As they have played in every game the Rams jumped into an early lead when Johnny Schlichter took a hand-off from Walter Mosley and scampered 45 yards over right tackle for a TD. Mosley's kick for the extra point was no good.

Lake Worth put together runs by Bobby Brooks, Harold Halney, and a neat 32 yard left end sweep into the end zone by Ray Barnes to tie the game up in the second quarter. The drive carried 70 yards.

Again in the 3rd quarter LW went on the march again driving 59 yards for their second tally. Bobby Brooks, fullback, crashed over left guard from the BG 6 yard line. Brooks hit the same spot to add the extra point after TD. LW went ahead 13-6 and continued to pour on the heat.

Trojans gained possession early in the last quarter when a Ram fumble on the BG 15 yard line. One Trojan play and a 15 yard penalty against the Rams took the ball to BG's 1 yard line where Brooks went over for the TD. Halback Harold Halney made the point at left tackle. LW 20, BG 6.

The final score came two minutes before the final horn. The Trojans drove 51 yards, chiefly on the ground - eating running of Bobby Brooks and two 15 yard penalties against the Rams which carried the ball to the 1 foot line. Quarterback Albert Ritchie sneaked the ball over from that point and Brooks smacked left guard for the point. Final score LW 27, BG 6.

Belle Glade will play Seagrass High School on Friday night there. Seagrass and the Rams are judged about even, but anything could happen.

LIONS BARBECUE

tional Counselor Claude Hicks, of Lake Worth, who said in part: "It is not my purpose here today to heap praise, honor or commendation upon any of us. Neither is it my purpose to reflect, in glowing tribute the credit you no doubt deserve for the civic activity you have entered into and accomplished. I am but a simple man, who has little to actually be proud of. My words for today, are meant to be thought-provoking, and serve in small measure to make us realize, just how little Nationalism or Patriotism we actually observe - certainly I know we rise in a body, pledge allegiance to the flag of our nation - and I know too that our club rooms must be decorated with our flag. I am also certain that we do these things, without CONSCIOUSLY for the full meaning of the gesture. This Day - Armistice day, comes and goes as another date, on the calendar of time. Little notice is taken, of the true meaning and significance of the occasion. I have little confidence, that all of us are aware, of the reason this day has been set aside. Some will say, the Wars are over - let's forget it! How true - the shooting is over in the three wars that this day is in commemoration of. But let me remind you, that we are in a world where there are forces active, in an effort to take this kind of life we have, that red of the down trodden peoples of other lands, whose joys are limited to a few scraps of food and a few hours respite from back-breaking labors for their masters. Our principal endeavor, is centered around our own efforts to make more than ever before - to squeeze, from the opportunities afforded us, the most possible in the shortest time. Where do these opportunities come from - were they God given? Are they the standard by which every nation is living? No! Our opportunities - clear way of life - our happiness - our feeling of security, are the result of the sacrifices we offered on the field of battle - The flower of our manhood - since the Revolutionary War, up to and including the Korean War. The path we walk today is over the torn and crumpled bodies of men who died and suffered that we are able today to meet here in peace - in the secure feeling that our homes and families are safe from the cold, hunger and privation of tyrants who live for themselves and their ilk. We are safe from the Godless and see to worship our God in any manner that our minds and hearts dictate. I am sickened to the core, by free Americans, exercising their freedom of speech, and freedom of the press, they are living by feeding the general public with pure and simple treason by condemning our elected officials of every crime, that can be stretched into degradation and denunciation, lies that hang by a miserable thread of safety, for the writer or sayer. Our Nation today is the best - the most powerful - the most secure - not because of them, but - in spite of them. In this day and time, we have a monstrous disease that is eating away at the foundation of our way of life. Our complacency is the life blood that feeds and nurtures this heinous malady, that threatens to sweep us down the drain to the mire of indignity and loss of respect and identity of man. Our defense is simple, our cure is elementary. It is merely this, clean our hearts and minds of the verbal and written sewage that is perpetrated upon us. Build our churches for it is our first line of defense and rededicate ourselves to the memory of those who gave their last measure of devotion that this Nation might live. Look for the good a man does and not search out the picaresque weaknesses that every one of us share. That light that burns in our nation's window late in the dark of night is the hope that our infant democracy will survive the night and live on to grow into an even more useful and strong Nation of tomorrow - what can they say that we have contributed to that tomorrow when we turn our records over to the future."
